Germans Claim Forces Advance To Important Military Centre Of Skoplje In Southern Yugoslavia

Elsewhere on the 750-mile front in southeast Europe, however, Yugoslavs were said to be making counter-gains, largely at Italian expense, and the Greeks were reported holding.

These, principally, were the gains claimed by the Germans:

- 1—Advancing to Budapest said Nazi forces had taken the Yugoslav towns of Nis and Skopje.
- 2—Yugoslav forces withdrew in southern Serbia, where their lines met the Greek line, leaving Greece's left flank unprotected.

The Greeks said they were holding firm at Roper pass where a German armored column sought to penetrate the Struma valley. The Yugoslav withdrawal was

BRITAIN WILL NEED GREATER BACON SUPPLY

28 Million More Pounds Required—Need For Cured Grains

OTTAWA, April 8.—(AP)—Agriculture Minister Gardiner said the House of Commons Monday the British government will require at least 28,000,000 pounds of bacon and hams from Canada this year in addition to the amount contracted for in the bacon agreement concluded last fall.

That the government's wheat acreage reduction program to meet Canada's expanding livestock population, the minister disclosed that three-way food supply negotiations have been in progress between the Canadian, British and United States governments.

FULL REASONS
Because these negotiations were in progress, he said, it was not possible to disclose the government's full reasons for the wheat acreage reduction plan when it was announced a few weeks ago.

The plan involves a saving of $2 an acre to western farmers on land taken out of wheat and sown to barley and other crops.

It was necessary, he said, that Canada obtain more cured grains to feed the larger number of hogs, cattle and other livestock on Canadian farms. It was also necessary that the price of cured grains should be forced to a level which would be high for livestock producers.

Under the bacon agreement of last fall, Canada agreed to supply 42,000,000 pounds in the year starting Nov. 1, 1940. The anticipated shipment to Great Britain for the present year is 60,000,000 pounds, against 330,000,000 pounds in the year starting Nov. 1, 1940, under the agreement then in effect.

WEEK-END INFORMATION

Mr. Gardiner said that before the wheat policy was announced to the House, regulations had reached a point where "we knew that Britain was likely to ask us for the production of a greater quantity of pork products, particularly hams and bacon, during the remainder of this year and next year, than had been the case up to that time."

"Over the week-end we received word that Great Britain is prepared to take from Canada 28,000,000 pounds more of hams than had been previously contracted for."

"In addition, she is hopeful of being able to have this contract filled earlier than had been anticipated. This may result in our supplying more than the additional 28,000,000 pounds or we may supply only the extra 28,000,000 pounds in addition to the amount already contracted for."

"But Great Britain has gone further than this. She has intimated to us that she believes it would be wise as well as ours, that we should give consideration to and try to encourage even greater production of hogs in Canada next year."

IMPORTED FEED

It had been estimated at Canada that it would be better for all concerned if the Dominion shipped to Great Britain the Wilshire side required there. States delivered other pork products which they were accustomed to provide for their own trade.

Last year, the minister said, Canada had to bring in more than 1,000,000 bushels of corn from the Argentine because there was not enough Canadian grain in feed use. Production of coarse grain could be stepped up to meet the requirements of the hog and other livestock producers.

From departmental sources, the Canadian Press learned Canada was in a "good" position to supply Great Britain with additional Wilshire sides, hams and hams. The bacon board had 26,000,000 pounds in storage ready for export. This was in addition to the amount in storage in the packers for the domestic market.

Mr. Gardiner, replying to criticism of the average bonus plan from eastern members, said that on a yield of 50 bushels an acre the bonus would amount to four cents a bushel. This was less than the government was prepared to pay in subsidizing freight rates on grain shipped to eastern Canada for livestock feeding.

CRITICISM VOICED

Criticism of the acreage reduction program was heard from A. H. Jenner (Con. Saskatoon), who contended farmers were being asked to make too drastic a cut in wheat production for one year.

He suggested all phases of the wheat situation should be placed under control of the minister of agriculture—marketing, grading and storing as well as production. The present division between the ministers of agriculture and trade and commerce was not satisfactory, he said.

After the dinner recess, G. H. Castleden (C.P.E. Yorkton) asked Mr. Gardiner to insert a clause in the wheat regulations which would have the effect of establishing a moratorium on wheat farm mortgages.

A large number of farmers would not receive enough income this year, under the new wheat policy, to enable them to pay interest on their mortgages, he contended. They would be forced to lose all their equity unless they were permitted to "draw down" the mortgage.

"We must do something to build up the morale of the people and not drive them further into the depths of despair," said Mr. Castleden.

Mr. Gardiner was subjected to a barage of questions on operations of the policy.

John Diefenbaker (Con. Lake Centre) contended the wording of provisions in the regulations which said the minister "may" accept certain claims for acreage bonus, with the wording of clauses outlining what the farmer has to do to get the bonus, where the word "shall" was used.

Mr. Gardiner said the law officers who drafted the regulations had told him this was the most realistic way that the word "may," in such cases, should be assumed to indicate obligation and not permission.

He said the minister's explanation was "re-wash" and that the wording was deliberate with the purpose of giving the minister "absolute, unbridled discretion." He urged the minister to have the law officers revise the regulations, and Mr. Gardiner said he would do so.

LEGAL ACTION
Mr. Diefenbaker, who had previously objected to instituting the wheat policy under an item in the estimates, without a statute, said that any person feeling himself discriminated against under operation of the regulations would have no recourse as law. He asked the minister if he would put in a clause insuring to the subject the right to take to the courts any grievance he might have through operation of the policy.

Mr. Gardiner said he did not think that excess there in all cases when a citizen would be taken legal action against the government, but he would obtain permission from the crown.

T. C. Douglas (C.P.E. Yorkton) said some provision should be made to equalize the position of farmers who increased wheat acreage last year and farmers who decreased. He said the former should be given a bonus for the extra acreage.

Mr. Gardiner said a provision in the regulations that where there was wheat on more than 60 per cent of the cultivated acreage of a farm in 1940 and on less than 40 per cent in 1939, or vice versa, the average wheat acres for 1939 and 1940 might be taken as the basis for computing 1941 acreage reduction. He agreed the provision might not meet the situation exactly and said he would welcome suggested improvements.

Gordon Ross (Lib. Moose Jaw) said good farming practice in Western Canada called for acreage reduction, and bonuses for wheat acreage production should start on a basis of 60 per cent of cultivated land being in wheat.

Mr. Ross said that in recent drought years large quantities of coarse grains had been shipped into some areas of the west at a cost of about $10,000,000. If farmers could be encouraged to build up reserves of coarse grain on their farms the need for such shipments in a future drought might be avoided.

Demand Recall

Charging that he is responsible for the acts of sabotage committed on Italian merchant ships in U.S. ports, the United States government has demanded the immediate recall of Admiral Alberto Laus, Italian naval attaché in Washington.

Mr. Laus, who had previously objected to instituting the wheat policy under an item in the estimates, without a statute, said that any person feeling himself discriminated against under operation of the regulations would have no recourse as law. He asked the minister if he would put in a clause insuring to the subject the right to take to the courts any grievance he might have through operation of the policy.

THAILAND MAY JOIN UP WITH JAPS IN EAST

Would Sharpen Crisis In Pacific Centring On Singapore

By HELMUS MORIN
BATAVIA, Netherlands East Indies, April 8.—(AP)—Japanese Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka's "sudden" departure toward from the European Axis capitals was coupled today with reports that Thailand may join the Axis and sharpen the crisis in the Pacific, centring on Singapore.

Matsuoka, who was in Moscow today, backing the route he decided to visit Hitler and Mussolini at the time of Italy's Italian Sea disaster in an engagement with the British navy and Yugoslavia's stand against the Axis.

Observers here said Matsuoka's departure from his post was "sudden" and that if Thailand signs the Axis pact, Britain unquestionably will increase in the far east.

Thailand's adherence to the Axis, it is believed here, would end all doubt her attitude toward Singapore, the Malay peninsula and the Netherlands East Indies.

The view of observers is that the "waiting period" in the far east is near an end and that concrete action toward Japan's aim of a "new order" in Asia will be expedited.

Cues in support of this view were the recent visit to Batavia of Air Marshal Sir Robert Brooke-Popham, commander-in-chief of British Asiatic forces with headquarters at Singapore, and the British-Netherlands-United States defence conference in Manila.

An alignment of Thailand with Japan would bring the latter fighting forces down the Malay peninsula within sight of Singapore and may striking distance of the Netherlands East Indies.

MORATORIUM DECLARED AN ALTERNATIVE

The whole subject came up when the house was in committee of the whole and Mr. Maynard submitted an amendment bill to the Legal Proceedings Suspension Act, which he declared, was for clarification of the Act and not an effort to challenge the O'Connor judgment.

The Legal Proceedings Suspension Act provides that actions brought under the Debt Adjustment Act are stayed for 60 days, in order to give the provincial government opportunity of referring the Debt Adjustment Act to the supreme court of Alberta for a ruling as to validity.

George MacLachlan, Ind., Pembroke, pointed out that after the regulation of the house, he, with others, expected to be asked regarding the status of the debt legislation throughout the province. He asked Mr. Maynard for a statement of the position.

JUDGMENT QUESTIONED
Mr. Maynard declared that he questioned the "soundness" in law of the judgment. For years the province had a Judgment Act under which the province is granted the right to administer justice and under which the duties and functions of the courts are enumerated.

He contended the issue that last year there had been raised on an act which prevented certain legal proceedings against soldiers. If the O'Connor judgment was not held good, this protection would not hold good.

The O'Connor judgment ruled that the legislative assembly cannot bar access to the courts, nor delay or impede court actions. Mr. Maynard declared he had no hesitation in declaring the judgment was not sound and that it would be appealed to the Privy Council, if necessary.

Mr. MacLachlan said there was an impression in the legal profession that the Debt Adjustment Act was no longer in existence as a result of the O'Connor judgment. As a result of this action, the Debt Adjustment Act was declared by the Privy Council to be null and void.

NINE KILLED IN AIR ASSAULT ON NORTH IRELAND

By The Canadian Press

Spotting their targets in bright moonlight, German bombers spanned the British Isles last night, hitting many scattered points in England, Scotland and Northern Ireland.

The moonlight also aided night fighters over the homeland and five Nazi raiders were shot down.

Nine persons were killed in Northern Ireland's first sustained air raid of the war. Northern Ireland had experienced sporadic raids before, but last night the Germans struck at an undisturbed town at midnight and unbroken hours for more than an hour.

Londonderry, after its long night sleep, had a brief daylight view at noon today.

Of other activity, the minister of air and home security said: "Though some districts experienced sharp attacks no heavy attack was made on any one district, but activity was widespread over the country and incidents are reported from many parts of Great Britain."

Looking them Over

JACK KELLY

BEHOLD! Time is here again—and what a relief that announcement is. As far as I am concerned the sport world doesn't offer a more pleasant way of spending a summer evening than perching on a ball game when the feeling is running high and the boys are not kicking too many.

What our ball picture will be this season is being laid out pending the organization of the committees which the city council will ask to handle Renfrew Park. Regardless of what rumors you have heard, that commission has not been completed yet, but should be in the work. Something definite is expected by Friday.

Gordon Butler, president of the Central Alberta League that provided a very satisfactory class of ball last season, might not be as anxious word from the city commissioners before he calls a league meeting.

Butler takes the logical stand that there is no use in calling a meeting until something definite is known about the park situation—what percentage will be asked for its use, who will be in control, who responsible for maintenance, what gates will be available for play and practice and so on. These are the details that the city will probably leave in the hands of the Renfrew committee.

From what I hear from men most likely to accept appointments to the commission, there should be no worry about settling terms. There is a general agreement that the percentage charged for the use of the park must be considerably lower than it has been in the past.

One Possible Difficulty

There seems to be only one possible difficulty and that will be the question of control over the junior league that the city is inquiring must be formed this season. One possibility is that the senior league take over the operating of a junior league each club backing one junior feeder team. Another setup would be for the junior to operate as an independent league drawing a certain percentage of the senior gates, or getting a set financial guarantee.

Either one of these set-ups would be workable perhaps, but right now the situation is still too indefinite to say which would be the better.

The major problem facing baseball this spring is to find enough players. Edmonton players have to be stretched to find enough. Ponoka has been hardest hit by active service enlistments since last season, but that might at least be a consolation. The city is likely to get the fewest players from there. They have imported players from Philadelphia, Newark and Los Angeles for a season and in a pinch they would probably bring them from Cuba. Wasekan is a question mark at present, but it too has had a lot of good baseball players. It is likely to get the fewest players again any day now. Still, it is another possibility that will be wondered out shortly. How about it, down there at Stillner? Would you like to battle again with your pal from Ponoka and Wasekan?

Junior Teams Are Impetive

Short from the cause of the present player shortage is that there has been no junior ball to speak of and a lot of attention must be given the kids at play.

In the event that Ponoka and Wasekan will come in to form a league with two Edmonton clubs, it is likely that the city will have to find junior teams and ask them to play at least a home and home game with the Edmonton juniors. Ponoka has had a single player more than a month playing that it will cost to operate a junior team that will give the town a full-season player later on. The same applies to practically all senior clubs.

The South Side Athletic Club and Maple Leaf Athletic Club are both interested in fielding junior teams this season. It is no likely that the Edmonton Athletic Club will want to play a junior team.

Since the city took over control of Renfrew Park, there has been a divided home in baseball, interest here and around for clubs will not be nearly as hard to get as in the past. Furthermore, with the opening of the park percentage put there is at least a chance for clubs to operate on a sound financial basis.

Oshawa Generals Wallop Royals 10-2 To Take Revenge And Even Series

TORONTO, April 8.—(CP)—A deluge broke loose Monday night over the heads of Montreal Royals as Oshawa Generals literally flooding the not-so-happy Quebec team 10-2 to even their best-of-five eastern Canada junior hockey final at a game apiece.

The Generals, winners of the Memorial cup in the last two seasons, made it evident from the start to the crowd of nearly 5,000 that they were out to avenge their 7-4 loss in the first game Saturday night.

They went into the lead less than two minutes after the start and after that it was only a question of how high the score would mount.

Leading the Oshawa attack were Roy Sawyer, Ben Wilson and Ben Nelson, who each scored three goals. Their other ally went to Norm McKee. The Montreal goal went to Ken McDell and Bunnio Goss.

The Generals, criticized by their followers for failing to backcheck in the first game, when Royals scored five straight goals in the last 10 minutes to win out, never let the Montrealers free for a moment Monday night. In particular they clung to the net and goalie Dick Schall for 60 minutes. If ease in comparison to Ross Ritchie.

PROPOSED TAX ON PIPE LINE IS HELD OVER

Plans for the imposition of a $50,000 tax in 1941 on all companies transporting crude oil to Calgary from Turner Valley by pipe line, will be held in abeyance, Hon. Ernest C. Manning, provincial secretary and minister of trade and industry, announced Tuesday. As a result the bill before the legislature providing for imposition of such a tax, was allowed to "ride" on the order paper when the house prorogued Tuesday.

The bill had been given first and second readings and had been passed through committee of the whole house to the point where it only required third reading and Royal Assent.

The proposed law would have affected only one company, the Royal Assent.

When the bill came up for third reading Monday, Mr. Manning advised that it be read over. Later when, more, third readings were given, the bill was not dealt with.

When the house read Mr. Manning, questioned on the bill, said that the government decided the bill was a "pretty big thing" and as a result it would be read over for the time being.

During discussion of the bill in committee of the whole, Mr. Manning had said the money from the tax would be applied toward raising a fund of a chair of petroleum engineering at the University of Alberta and that while $50,000 would be the greatest part of it, it would be the greatest part of it.

Mr. Manning declared that no decision had been reached.

GOVERNMENT TO MAKE START ON DISTRICT PLAN

Start will be made this year on the government's plan of larger municipal units, Hon. Lester B. Pearson, K.C., minister of municipal affairs, announced in the legislature Monday. While a start is to be made, the government is not planning any comprehensive plan for the present.

The house at the time was in committee of the whole discussing and amending bill to the Municipal Districts Act.

Replying to a question by E. McEwen, Ind. Distributor, Mr. Pearson, said that the government's intention was to make a study of the changes were made, consultations would be held with municipal district association officials.

Mr. Pearson, in reply to a question by Percy McElroy, Ind. Distributor, as to whether a petition for a plebiscite would be granted, giving people most affected by a proposed change in boundaries, a chance to express their opinion, said: "We have a general provision providing for a plebiscite on any question."

Co-operation of the Municipal Districts association should be obtained before any comprehensive change in boundaries is made, said Mr. Pearson.

PENSION AGE IS TOO HIGH SOCIETY TOLD

Addressing a public meeting in the LOOP hall, 160 street under the auspices of the Alberta Pensioners' society Monday, William Irvine, former member of the House of Commons declared that the present pension age requirement is so high that most people do not live long enough to be eligible for old age pension.

Mr. Irvine also stated that $20 a month as maximum payment is "entirely inadequate, any commitment that the necessity faced by the old age pensioners in relinquishing their homes in order to receive this amount is 'perpetrator'."

He said that more than any other section of the act, reduces the pension to "charity for indigents." The charity phase of the act should be removed, he said.

Ald. Sydney Pearson said he was fully in sympathy with the aims and objects of the pensioners' group. He emphasized the fact that due to the use of machinery men over 40 found it difficult to find employment, earning a decent standard of living.

Following the addresses, Mrs. Kathleen Brown, of Falls, Alta., led a discussion period. President Edward C. Fisher occupied the chair and read several communications from the past.

Bill Governing Pedestrians Is Before House

Setting forth rights and obligations of pedestrians, a bill amending and consolidating the Vehicle and Highway Traffic Act is now before the house.

The bill provides that "When pedestrians are crossing at intersections in accordance with the direction of traffic control of signals or traffic officers, vehicles turning onto such intersections are required to yield the right-of-way to pedestrians."

Pedestrians walking on sidewalks on the travelled portion of any highway are required to keep to the left of any such highway.

It is made clear in the bill that vehicles travelling on main thoroughfares have the right-of-way and all vehicles turning onto such thoroughfares "must remain stopped until they can enter the main highway with safety."

It is provided that the owner of a vehicle convicted twice of using the vehicle without proper lights is liable to impounding of the vehicle.

There is one section dealing with the period of limitation of action. It declares that civil proceedings arising from accidents must be commenced within a year. Criminal proceedings must be taken within a month.
